

Newsletter

A season shaped by desire

The new Autumn/ Winter Collection 83 by the Butonia-Kahage Group redefines buttons as versatile design elements that combine tradition with innovation.

Natural materials such as corozo and horn meet modern eco-friendly components, while advanced laser techniques create precise structures and unique surface effects. A broad range of metal buttons. As underlines the collection's strength – celebrated for their versatility, durability, and timeless appeal. From fine shirt buttons to striking statement pieces, each design reflects durability, elegance, and design innovation.

„Modern life requires us to be more and more flexible in our attire.“

Giorgio Armani

The color palette introduces a surprising vitality for a winter collection: luminous shades stand alongside earthy, muted tones – a combination that feels both harmonious and remarkably fitting. This balance adds lightness without losing depth, creating a timeless aesthetic that is refined yet refreshingly modern.

New shapes and finishes blur traditional boundaries, offering styles that resonate broadly without being tied to masculine or feminine conventions. Collection 83 embodies versatility – a forward-looking fusion of functionality, sustainability, and contemporary elegance.

